

NEWS & ANNOUNCEMENTS

GRE scores now accepted in lieu of GMAT for admission to B-Schools in U.S.A.

Princeton, N.J. (August 19, 2009) —has announced that it will begin accepting GRE® General Test scores for admission into its full- and part-time MBA programs for the fall semester 2010. The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania plans to accept GRE scores in the fall semester 2010 for the fall admission class of 2011.

The official announcement highlights a growing trend among top business schools of accepting GRE scores for admission into MBA programs.

For Universities accepting GRE scores for admission to MBA programs in U.S.A.
Visit: www.ets.org/gre/bschools